GOALS AND RATIONALE

Inquiry emphasizes the process of learning in order to develop deep understanding in addition to the intended acquisition of content, knowledge & skills. Inquiry draws upon a constructive learning theory where understanding is built thorough the active development of conceptual mental frameworks by the learner. Teaching practices must draw out and work wit students' pre-existing understandings and make student "thinking" visible and central to the learning.

BIG IDEAS

Personal design choices require self-exploration & refinement of skills. Social, ethical & sustainability considerations impact design choices. Tools & technology have an impact on people's lives.
